Dave Lindquist reviews the new album by local supergroup 81355 (pronounced 'Bless') and explains the importance of the work put out by Oreo Jones, Sirivs Blvck, and David 'Moose' Adamson - individually as well as together. The former Indy Star music columnist writes about each of their individual achievements and current work being released at the end of May on 37d03d, a record label founded by Justin Vernon of Bon Iver, and Aaron and Bryce Dessner of The National, and distributed by Indiana's Secretly Distribution.

A NOTE FROM CARRIE @ RSD HQ

Hello From RSD HQ:

That's a joke, really. The "headquarters" of Record Store Day is really whichever record store you spend it in. I organize Record Store Day (and all the things we do year-round) and I have a space with my computer and two turntables (and a microphone! There is, after all, a Record Store Day podcast) and from here I talk to people all day about records, and record stores, and fun things those record stores are doing, and records, and books, and how fun record stores are on social media, and records, and record stores. Sound like a dream job? It is. But it doesn't make what I do, or where I do it the heart, or the HQ, of RSD.

But you know that already, don't you? You know about good record stores (Indiana has a bounty of them) and Indy CD & Vinyl? If you're spending Record Store Day there--or stopping in on a random Tuesday, or hitting it up on date night--you're standing in exactly what we wanted to celebrate when we started this whole crazy thing: A bustling, colorful, welcoming space. People, on both sides of the counter, who love music. A creative sense of community that stretches the idea of what a "business" or a "store" really is.

So Happy Record Store Day! Congratulations on having such a great record store as your "local". Next time you stop in, or call, or order online, or pull up to the curb, give the gang a little extra thanks. And tell Andy, Annie, Joe, Derek, Isabella, Kelsey and Jarry that Carrie from RSD non-HQ says "Hi!"

THE SPINNER: NOTES FROM ANNIE & ANDY AT THE SHOP

LOOKING FORWARD TO AN AMAZING PAIR OF RSD DROPS!

We want to thank all our friends, family, regulars, customers, and online shoppers for all of the support, input, and encouragement over the past year.

We are in love with the music we sell and the industry we are in, and the support you showed us and the patience you exhibited as we navigated the pandemic has confirmed our decision that the music business is the best business in the world. It is our job to make people happy, and we love doing it!

We are looking forward to bringing in these limited-edition titles for RSD Drops, as this is quite possibly the best-looking list for #RSD ever!

We are going to do everything we can to make sure you have fun, that you feel safe, and that we are efficient to get everyone through the line as quickly and as safely as possible!

This newspaper is the vehicle for getting you The List so your shopping goes smoothly and we hopefully get you every title that you want!

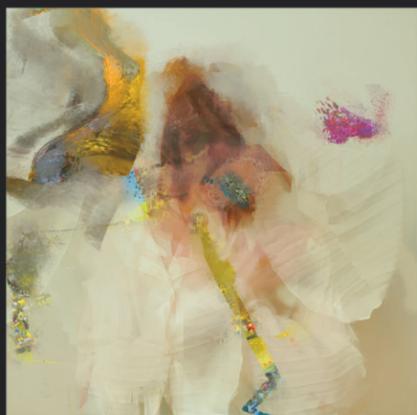

As a Thank You from the two of us, there will be prizes, giveaways, extras, added-value items, and other goodies just for shopping at Indy CD & Vinyl on the #RSD Drops dates.

We are so excited to see everyone on June 12th and July 17th - who knows how many of our community partners and fellow local businesses will also show up to spread the love, and a few extra giveaways too! 2020 was a big learning experience, and with your input we feel that our store emerged stronger and better, and we hope you can see the love we pour into the shop every day.

RSD DROPS:

HOW IT WORKS

Because of the ongoing pandemic, and the fact that we don't have a crystal ball, we've decided that it's in the best interest to hold two Record Store Day Drops dates this year, rather than return to having one big celebration. Those two RSD Drops dates will be June 12 and July 17. Other stores worldwide will have the same dates.

*RSD Drops are different than Record Store Day. Instead of releasing all titles on one day, instead of having a massive crowd of customers in the store at once for an extended period of time, instead of having a party with bands and food and beer and everything else that the previous Record Store Day events have been celebrated with (although that might still happen if Covid numbers are fantastic), we're staging a duo of RSD DROPS -- two dates, one in June and one in July on which titles will be released, with an emphasis on getting cool, desirable content into the shop. But not all at once, and not as part of a giant party. We're not calling this Record Store Day and we're not even referring to them as "events." They're Drops--a date when exciting fun pieces come out--only at your favorite indie record store! Like always, though, Indy CD & Vinyl will order every release and have lists available in advance (see the centerfold of this newspaper) for you to bring to us on a drops date and we will sell you the items on your list if we still have them!

*RSD worked hard to split the List as equitably as possible across these two RSD Drops dates.

*No one can be sure what sort of government mandates or restrictions will be in place at any point in the future, what sort of "event" customers or staff will be in the mood for, so we're choosing to focus on the releases, and getting them into your hands! We're relying on everyone to be socially responsible when we are selling them - you'll have to help us educate all your friends on what to expect. Expect we will keep you safe, expect we will have all of the available releases, and expect to have fun!

- On Saturday, June 12th & July 17th RSD titles will be sold via our back door at 8am. The shop itself opens at 10am. NOT FINE PRINT: GO TO OUR BACK DOOR FOR RSD STUFF AT 8AM!

- The List is available in the centerfold of this newspaper, like a sushi menu - so tear it out, check off the titles on your #RSDDrops wishlist, then bring it to the shop!

- You cannot pre-order or have RSD items placed on hold, as this violates the pledge we have signed with RSD, so please don't ask. Your BEST CHANCE to get the limited records is to arrive early in person. Bring the list to our back door on #RSD and we will fill your order!

- When you arrive, you will be greeted at our back entrance by a masked member of our crew, who will show you where to queue until it's time to get your #RSD items. If you line up earlier than our staff arrives, our waiting area through the back lot and on the sidewalk will be clearly marked with socially-distanced spots for customers to stand 6 feet apart.

- The register will be at the back door to the shop, so please mark on your List if you are paying cash or credit.

- We will fill as much of your list as we can with the product we have! We will continue to update those in line with items that have sold out. Again, you cannot pre-order or have #RSD items placed on hold, as this violates the pledge we have signed with RSD, so please don't ask. Please do not call the shop as we will not be selling the records until 1pm, or when the line is done, whichever is later.

- We will begin to take phone orders officially at 1pm EST, as well as selling the items online at our branded eBay store: <https://www.ebay.com/usr/indycdandvinyl>

- Priority is given to those in line, at the shop. RSD is dedicated to independent brick & mortar record stores and the products offered are designed to incentivize folks to go visit their local record store.

- Not done shopping? Come on around to the front door and shop the regular in-stock items like 'normal,' albeit only 10 customers in the shop at a time (subject to change). Wearing masks. We will be open 10am-8pm inside so come shop and support local!

EMPLOYEE RSD PICKS

AS. ANNIE SKINNER

Honestly this is the best list I've seen in years and I'm so excited about how many amazing titles we'll be seeing drop this year! Here are my picks:

Bjork X THE HAMRAHLÍÐ CHOIR

I know, I know, this one is obvious for me, but honestly I'm excited because this is the first time she's had an RSD title. Also, this piece is special because Andy & I saw her perform these songs with this choir in NYC on the Cornucopia Tour, so it holds a place in my heart.

Dirty Three

I'm thrilled to dive into this remastered 'Ocean Songs' box set and I'm so happy to see it get the love it deserves (remastered, color vinyl, new sleeve artwork, and a pull-out poster). I'm also looking forward to it because it will include the performance from the ATP festival in NYC in 2005 where the band was joined by Nick Cave (on piano) to perform the album 'Ocean Songs' in its entirety.

Oneohtrix Point Never

Finally I'm getting my hands on all the Oneohtrix records but without paying hefty 'out-of-print' prices. Mexican Summer is pressing 5 exclusive editions of the seminal works (all originally released on various bedroom labels before being collected as Rifts in 2012.) I've been kicking myself as I loved Daniel Lopatin's work back then but never picked these up on vinyl. I'm happy to have an opportunity now, he's definitely an artist to watch as I feel like he's just really getting started.

Gorillaz

So I realized during the first lockdown I was a slacker and I didn't pick up all the Gorillaz albums as they came out, but now I can have them all together in this tidy box set collection. The G Collection vinyl box set contains six Gorillaz studio albums from 2001 - 2020.

JJ. JOE JOVINGO

Brainiac

I normally do not collect live recordings or demos, but the story behind Brainiac is a sad one. They formed in 1992 and had an impressive career before front man Tim Taylor died in a car accident in 1997. From Dayton Ohio -- a live recording -- gives us a chance to experience the energy of a live show while Attic Tapes shows us their creative process. What was, and what could have been.

Oneohtrix Point Never

OPN has been churning out releases for almost 15 years now. He's on Warp, he's done movie soundtracks and scores, he was the musical director for a Super Bowl halftime show. This is the stuff that came before all that. These are the releases that got him noticed. Out of print for nearly a decade, now pressed to colored vinyl.

KE. KELSEY EBERLE

Buzzcocks

I'm most excited about Buzzcocks 'A Different Compilation.' This release includes some of my favorite songs, re-recorded in 2011 and never before released on vinyl.

Brainiac

I'm also excited to hear 'From Dayton Ohio,' featuring unreleased and remastered songs from proud Midwesterners Brainiac, including live tracks from a show at the legendary Blind Pig in Champaign-Urbana.

ID. ISABELLA DEVOY

Shew! RSD is on fire this year! There are so many to be excited about, but out of the hundreds of releases, I'm the most stoked for these:

Buzzcocks

'A Different Compilation' is 24 of The Buzzcocks' best-loved songs pressed on pink vinyl.

Desmond Dekker

'King of Ska: The Early Singles Collection, 1963 - 1966' is 10x 7" of the hits, baby!

Gun Club

'The Birth The Death The Ghost' is a rare one of early live recordings with the OG lineup.

Fear

The Record (reissue of this classic on 140g clear & white vinyl w/ bonus 7" and stencil of the band logo).

Toots & The Maytals

Last but not least, 'Funky Kingston' is some good time fuel distilled, mixed up, and then pressed on turquoise & cream split vinyl!

JS. JARRY SNYDER

Frankie and the Witch Fingers

I'm very excited for the RSD rerelease of 'Brain Telephone' by Frankie and the Witch Fingers. Newly re-mastered and re-packaged on "brain matter" splatter vinyl. Very cool to see some former Hoosiers teaming up with an independent label (Greenway Records out of New York) in support of independent record stores nationwide.

AS. ANDY SKINNER

There are almost too many great RSD releases to only pick a few, but I choose these:

Warpaint

I absolutely love 'The Fool,' so I'm excited to see what these alternate mixes bring out in the songs from Andrew Weatherall, the genius behind Primal Scream's 'Screamadelica.' Yowza!

Suede

A live concert recording a month after their first album dropped, here on vinyl for the first time. I am looking forward to hearing Suede's original, dirty, young energy in a double LP package.

DK. DEREK KENDALL

Opeth

The album 'Morningrise' is early Opeth at its best: pummeling you one second and delivering hauntingly beautiful, acoustic-laden melodies the next. Oh, and it contains my favorite Opeth track: The Night and the Silent Water

Black Sabbath

Always well-represented on RSD, Dio makes another appearance, this time with his Sabbath debut 'Heaven And Hell.' I can't even imagine how excited I would have been if I had been alive when this album first dropped, but I know how excited I am for this pic disc!

The Sword

It's hard to believe the album 'Age Of Winters' is already 15 years old. It really made an impact on teenage me. A Purple Frost color pressing sounds pretty righteous as well.

JOSH MASON

We asked Josh Mason, Vice-President of the Indy Eleven FC: WHAT RSD RELEASES ARE YOU EXCITED ABOUT?

First off I have a few passions in my life. Family. Soccer. A good beverage. Live Music. I worked in record stores in college, and I have genuine passion for good music, and just like any great beverage - they should be always be paired with great people, experiences and for enjoyment. Cheers! Here are the albums I cannot wait to put on (and my suggested beverage pairing):

Grateful Dead - Olympia Theatre, Paris, France 5/3/72

Yes, judge me. I love The Grateful Dead and Phish. I love what this band has done for music, marketing, sound, experience, festivals, improvisation, inspiration - whether you like them or not - you cannot deny their influence on our culture. This album does not feature either of my favorite's "Mason" Children" or "The Eleven", but any GD show on vinyl is going to get my money. Beverage Pairing: Local IPA watching Hyryder at the Mousetrap any summer weekend in 2021.

Steely Dan - Everything Must Go & Two Against Nature

Any audiophile knows how important "Aja" is from a recording standpoint, and what perfectionists Becker & Fagen were in the studio, so to hear these two newer albums on wax should continue an appropriate audio journey started back with 1972's "Can't Buy a Thrill". Beverage Pairings: Good whiskey with some good age or character slipped slow as these albums are not in a hurry to get you anywhere, this one's about the journey. When you flip the album, refill your glass. Bulleit 10 year or Old 55 100% Sweet Corn Bourbon.

Mayer Hawthorne - Impressions

The man just knows music and makes good music, even if its someone else's music. And the music he makes? It belongs on vinyl. If you were lucky enough to catch him at Radio Radio in his first Indy appearance on the Strange Arrangement tour, what a treat. While these tunes are already out digitally, this on vinyl will be a treat. Beverage Pairings: This one's a little funky - Let's a do a Smith & Cross Rum Daiquiri - not a blended drink, folks. Might I suggest one from The Inferno Room? Go have an experience people.

Beastie Boys - Aglio E Olio

I should not have to explain any of the why on this one. Beasties playing PUNK. Beverage Pairing: Drinking Miller High Life - 12 oz Bottles wearing a pair of Vans, a Descendents t-shirt, and getting chased by mall cops in the Washington Sq. parking lot while riding your skateboard.

FRIENDS OF OURS

GINO SIMMONS

We asked Gino Simmons, DJ, friend, and Indy CD & Vinyl Super Regular: WHAT RSD RELEASES ARE YOU EXCITED ABOUT?

Me'Shell Ndegeocello - Peace Beyond Passion

There are many releases on this year's RSD Drops List that I am looking forward to, but my heart is set on one record in particular: I really want Me'Shell Ndegeocello's album "Peace Beyond Passion".

This is a long-sought-after album that is extremely rare on vinyl. During it's time of release, Compact Discs & cassettes were the only formats made available for this release, and very few great albums in the 90s got wide release on vinyl.

I consider this album the "What's Going On" of the 90's... I am thankful to all those involved that it made it on to "THE LIST!"

This record is definitely my #1, but I am also looking forward to releases from Miles Davis, Prince, The Police, and Aretha Franklin.

JASON KING

We asked Jason King, Sr. Talent Buyer for MOKB Presents: WHAT RSD RELEASES ARE YOU EXCITED ABOUT?

Crosby, Stills, Nash & Young - Deja vu Alternates

I grew up listening to the original Déjà vu album with my Dad. This new release features alternate versions of "Teach Your Children," "Woodstock," "Our House" and "Helpless". I can't wait to hop in my time machine and visit Laurel Canyon in 1969.

Linkin Park - Meteora

Back in 2003, knuckleheads in their early 20's were finding out that life can be pretty shitty sometimes. Chester Bennington was there for us. We popped that CD in our car stereo from Best Buy and screamed all the way to our first real job. RIP Chester. This one is a double album pressed in blue vinyl, which is pretty damn cool.

Mayer Hawthorne - Impressions

The man just knows music and makes good music, even if its someone else's music. And the music he makes? It belongs on vinyl. If you were lucky enough to catch him at Radio Radio in his first Indy appearance on the Strange Arrangement tour, what a treat. While these tunes are already out digitally, this on vinyl will be a treat. Beverage Pairings: This one's a little funky - Let's a do a Smith & Cross Rum Daiquiri - not a blended drink, folks. Might I suggest one from The Inferno Room? Go have an experience people.

The Notorious B.I.G - Biggie Duets: The Final Chapter

Wow. An album of just Biggie duets with Jay-Z, Faith Evans, Missy Elliot, Nas, Snoop Dogg, Ludacris, P Diddy, Eminem, etc? I mean. This has to be FIRE. Also can't wait to hear the 2 unreleased bonus cuts.

CHRISTIE COYLE

We asked Christie Coyle, Senior Account Executive at Redeye Music Distribution: WHAT RSD RELEASES ARE YOU EXCITED ABOUT?

Oneohtrix Point Never

I was first introduced to OPN when the R Plus Seven release came out on Warp in 2013. I was instantly drawn to his unique production style, and did a deeper dive into his catalog. These are all fantastic records that fans (myself included!) will be grateful to have on wax.

Bobo Jenkins

Ok, I'll admit that this was solely based on cover art initially. But after a trip down a YouTube rabbit hole, I'm certain this release will be pure gold. Such a fantastic style of blues!

Animal Collective

When I was a DJ at my college radio station (WUAG 103.1 FM, Greensboro!), I played any and every release in the Animal Collective section as often as I could (probably to the point of annoyance to the listener). This one hits me right in the nostalgia of a time when I was discovering new music, which eventually set me on my career path!

ROY CULVER

We asked Roy Culver, Sales Director at Nuclear Blast Records: WHAT RSD RELEASES ARE YOU EXCITED ABOUT?

Kings X

Soundgarden, Pearl Jam and many other of your rock favorites have spoken about the impact of Kings X's early catalog on their sound. I am glad to see these overlooked and later-released titles getting a RSD repress. In my opinion, the album "Tapehead" is one of the band's best!

ALEX RAMSAY

We asked Alex Ramsay, Indie Retail Sales Coordinator at Thirty Tigers Records: WHAT RSD RELEASES ARE YOU EXCITED ABOUT?

John Prine

What an absolute legend. The title of this piece (Stay Independent: The Oh Boy Years, curate by Indie Record Stores) says everything you need to know about it - it's indie record stores picking their favorite independent artist's songs from the catalog of his very own independent record label. It's a piece made by fans of John Prine, for fans of John Prine. Everything about John Prine conveys what it means to "stay independent" - his rhymes, his guitar playing, his love for a good hotdog, his ability to articulate a profound observation in the most simple way that makes you chuckle and think "...well why didn't I think of that?" Listening to a John Prine song feels like he's letting you in on a secret - like he just slid you a crumpled up piece of paper that has the meaning of life scribbled down on it in crayola crayon. If you know, you know. We all miss him! If you're ever in Nashville make sure you stop by Grimey's New & Preloved Music to see the John Prine mural that was used on this album cover.

Lupe Fiasco

The story behind this project is very inspiring to me, and I think it perfectly encapsulates the pandemic-inspired collaborative spirit that helped so many artists continue to create music while being stuck at home. In May of 2020, young producer Kaellin Ellis tweeted a video of himself making music in his room, and someone commented "get this to Lupe somehow." In less than 24 hours Lupe had added some verses and sent the song back to Kaelin, to which Kaelin replied "Lupe lets work. This is crazy." What a great beginning to a great project. Lucky for us, on this pressing we get their full collaborative EP on Side A, and Ellis's beats have a chance to speak for themselves with the instrumental tracks on Side B. And how can you not be drawn in by the beautiful Charles Mingus Ah Um-esque artwork? Don't miss out on this one!

FIVE QUESTIONS FOR RSD AMBASSADOR FRED ARMISEN

MATT SOMMERS

We asked Matt Sommers, Senior Global Creative Director at Indianapolis-based Klipsch Audio: WHAT RSD RELEASES ARE YOU EXCITED ABOUT?

RSD is always a great way for me to connect with my favorite artists - over and above the standard releases they put out. I'm really looking forward to dropping the tone arm on two releases this year in particular.

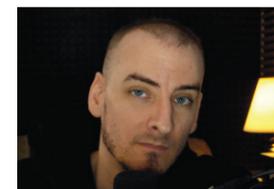

Being a huge Devo fan, I unfortunately missed out on the 2005 limited release of Gerald Casale's "Jihad Jerry and the Evildoers" limited edition CD. With all the members playing on it, it's like a lost Devo album. The fact that it's being re-released on vinyl is fantastic, with a bonus track featuring Oingo Boingo's Steve Bartek!

I am also excited to hear the long out-of-print final Tom Tom Club album, "The Good The Bad and The Funky", featuring late greats Toots Hibbert and Bernie Worrell. I've only heard a few tracks on various CD compilations in the past, and it hasn't ever been available on streaming services. The cover of Donna Summer's "Love to Love You Baby" should be epic!

SEAN STUART

We asked Sean Stuart, AKA the producer known as Lonegeivity, instructor at Deckademics, founder of Bringing Down The Band, and host of the New Old Heads Podcast: WHAT RSD RELEASES ARE YOU EXCITED ABOUT?

There are two albums I'd grab this Record Store Day. The first one is Lupe Fiasco's "HOUSE" EP, as it has a great story behind it.

Kaelin Ellis made a beat video on social media and Lupe got tagged in it, so Lupe responded by taking the track and looping it, recording a verse, and then releasing it back to social media. That turned into them making the "HOUSE" EP.

The second album I am looking forward to this RSD is the modern hip hop classic "The Allegory" by Royce Da 5'9".

1 WHAT RECORD LATELY DO YOU OFTEN RECOMMEND TO YOUR FRIENDS?

"The Afro-Eurasian Eclipse" by Duke Ellington.

We have a regular at the shop who asks us often, "if your house were burning down and you could only save three of your LPs, what are they?" He then goes and buys these suggestions as must-haves. If you could only keep 3-5 records from your collection, which are they?

"Computer World" Kraftwerk
"Sign O'The Times" (Deluxe Ed.) Prince
"Ram" Paul & Linda McCartney
"The Hot Rock" Sleater-Kinney
"Sandinista" The Clash

2 WHAT RECORD HAVE YOU BEEN LISTENING TO LATELY?

"Sweep It Into Space" by Dinosaur Jr

We are based in beautiful Indianapolis, Indiana and have memories of Trenchmouth playing here in the early 90s with local band Split Lip (later Chamberlain). Do you have memories of Indy from the Trenchmouth days?

I do! We really enjoyed playing in Indianapolis. It wasn't too far of a drive from Chicago, so playing there was more of a one-off show, as opposed to being on tour. We played other cities in Indiana and those were always fun shows. From what I remember, we had a photographer friend with us when we went to Indianapolis. We have a whole bunch of pictures from that show somewhere. I'm not sure of this, but I think one of those photos was used for a Trenchmouth compilation many years later.

3 WHAT SHOULD WE KNOW ABOUT YOUR RSD RELEASE?

I wanted to record a song that featured timbales and bass, two instruments I really love. Then I did another one that was primarily bass. Ty Segall produced it, and he created a second version of the timbale-led song. I recorded it all at his studio, way out in the hills somewhere. Everything was recorded onto tape. I've always admired how prolific he is. I love his music, so it was easy to work with him.

MIKE HEYLIGER

We asked Mike Heyliger, New York journalist, activist, and host of the podcast 'Detoxicity': WHAT RSD RELEASES ARE YOU EXCITED ABOUT?

Prince "The Truth"

In early 1998, the artist then formerly known as Prince released a multi-CD set called "Crystal Ball". The album contained a ton of music from the infamous "vault" of tracks Prince had been toiling away at over the course of his career. While there were certainly gems spread throughout the three albums that comprised "Crystal Ball", it could be argued that "The Truth" - an all-acoustic fourth disc of new music that accompanied the "Crystal Ball" set - contained some of the best music Prince recorded in the back half of the '90s. Highlights include the Joni Mitchell-inspired song "Circle of Amour", the sarcastic music industry warning "Don't Play Me", and the haunting "Comeback", which was said to be inspired by the passing of Prince's infant son.

Linkin Park "Metemora"

Rap-rock has never really been my thing, but Linkin Park were, to me, the shining light in that relatively misguided sub-genre. The late Chester Bennington was possessed of a legitimately powerful vocal range and Mike Shinoda was an emcee's emcee (hey, they were good enough to have The God Rakim) guest on a track. 2003's "Metemora" was their solid sophomore effort, and it sold over 7 million copies in the U.S. The beats are hard-hitting, Bennington screams and wails at the top of his lungs, and the tracks feel legitimately dark and tortured. This album includes "Numb", which is probably their best known song, but there's other great songs like "Hit The Floor", "Somewhere I Belong" and "Breaking The Habit".

Me'shell Ndegeocello "Peace Beyond Passion"

In my opinion, singer/rapper/bassist/poet Me'shell Ndegeocello is one of the most underrated talents to come along in the last thirty years. Pop fans may know her as John Mellencamp's duet partner on his cover of Van Morrison's "Wild Night", but Me'shell has been making thought provoking music on her own since 1993, and has done so in a variety of genres, from folk-rock to jazz to hip-hop. "Peace Beyond Passion" contains some of her most confrontational work, led by the first single "Leviticus: Faggot", which tells the story of a young gay man with nuance and sensitivity and was far ahead of its time. This is "Peace"'s first appearance on vinyl, and Me'shell is joined by several musical hard-hitters on this album, like Billy Preston, Wendy Melvoin and saxophonist Joshua Redman.

ATTICUS GEORGE-ANDRESKJI

We asked Atticus George-Andreskji at Sub Pop Records: WHAT RSD RELEASES ARE YOU EXCITED ABOUT?

Sisters Of Mercy "BBC Sessions"

Although Andrew Eldritch would hate me for saying this, as a goth, I love Sisters of Mercy, and this is prime Sisters of Mercy. Two of the Three sessions are with John Peel, it features early singles and songs that would end up on First and Last and Always, but I'm particularly excited for the covers, The Stooges - 1969, Dolly Parton - Jolene and Hot Chocolate - Emma, what more do you want?

Dinner Party - Dinner Party: Dessert

Supergroup Dinner Party, composed of Terrace Martin, Robert Glasper, 9th Wonder and Kamasi Washington, put out their debut album last year and it was everything I would hope a record composed of those members would sound like. This followup takes all the songs and adds a ton of heavy hitter collaborators including Snoop Dogg, Rapsody and Herbie Hancock to name a few.

Perfume Genius - IMMEDIATELY remixes

Another one of my favorite records last year gets the remix treatment from some pretty cool people including Boy Harsher, Jenny Hval and Actress, among others. This takes an already beautiful record and adds extra ambient moments, techno and electro pop. This is a beautiful companion to the original full length.

DAVID LINDQUIST

We asked Dave Lindquist, Indianapolis-based music journalist: WHAT RSD RELEASES ARE YOU EXCITED ABOUT?

John Prine

What an absolute legend. The title of this piece (Stay Independent: The Oh Boy Years, curated by Indie Record Stores) says everything you need to know about it - it's indie record stores picking their favorite independent artist's songs from the catalog of his very own independent record label. It's a piece made by fans of John Prine, for fans of John Prine. Everything about John Prine conveys what it means to "stay independent" - his rhymes, his guitar playing, his love for a good hotdog, his ability to articulate a profound observation in the most simple way that makes you chuckle and think "...well why didn't I think of that?" Listening to a John Prine song feels like he's letting you in on a secret - like he just slid you a crumpled up piece of paper that has the meaning of life scribbled down on it in crayola crayon. If you know, you know. We all miss him! If you're ever in Nashville make sure you stop by Grimey's New & Preloved Music to see the John Prine mural that was used on this album cover.

Lupe Fiasco

The story behind this project is very inspiring to me, and I think it perfectly encapsulates the pandemic-inspired collaborative spirit that helped so many artists continue to create music while being stuck at home. In May of 2020, young producer Kaellin Ellis tweeted a video of himself making music in his room, and someone commented "get this to Lupe somehow." In less than 24 hours Lupe had added some verses and sent the song back to Kaelin, to which Kaelin replied "Lupe lets work. This is crazy." What a great beginning to a great project. Lucky for us, on this pressing we get their full collaborative EP on Side A, and Ellis's beats have a chance to speak for themselves with the instrumental tracks on Side B. And how can you not be drawn in by the beautiful Charles Mingus Ah Um-esque artwork? Don't miss out on this one!

SCOTT BRAND

We asked Scott Brand, Sales Director at Virgin Music: WHAT RSD RELEASES ARE YOU EXCITED ABOUT?

Animal Collective

'Prospect Hummer' is my favorite of Animal Collective's releases and having a voice like Vashti Bunyan's accompanying is true magic! Been searching for this one for years on vinyl so I'm stoked it's part of the June Drops!

Dedicated To You: Lowrider Love

Very pumped for this various artists compilation! I recently came across this CD comp series called Explosive Doo Wops and this will be a perfect accompaniment!

JESSE RICE

We asked Jesse Rice, Owner of Black Circle Brewing Company: WHAT RSD RELEASES ARE YOU EXCITED ABOUT?

Alkaline Trio

We have been on a pop punk/ early 2000s tangent at Black Circle recently, at least when Dustin isn't in house. So, we are excited to see a 20th anniversary of 'From Here To Infirmary' on the list.

Judas Priest

Speaking of Dustin... we will likely also pick up that Judas Priest 'Best of' or maybe a fresh copy of The Fixx to keep Dustin happy!

GINA WILLIAMS

We asked Gina Williams, Director at Warner-Elektra-Atlantic/ADA Distribution: WHAT RSD RELEASES ARE YOU EXCITED ABOUT?

The Zombies

The first thing one does upon hearing anything else by The Zombies besides the hits "She's Not There" and "Time Of The Season" is to FREAK OUT THAT THEY WROTE SO MANY SONGS AS GOOD, IF NOT BETTER! 'Oddities & Extras' comes on a single LP 180g Mono in one of my favorite vinyl shades: black.

Other Music Documentary Soundtrack LP +DVD

This record is family to me. As a New Yorker I had the pleasure of dropping by Other Music anytime I was in the mood for a new record. The place was sprinkled with pixie dust, as surely these in-store performances will reveal. Utmost respect to Brooklyn's Factory 25 for putting together another beautifully done collection.

Candi Staton

'Trouble, Heartaches and Sadness' is rare cuts from her 1969-1973 FAME sessions in Muscle Shoals, Alabama, never before released on LP? Sign me UP, Candi! She is an emotional powerhouse coupled with sweet vulnerability. Some call her one of the greatest female soul singers of all time. I call her one of The Greatest. Singers. Of. All. Time.

81355

81355 is a collaboration between Indianapolis pillars Sirius Blvck, Oreo Jones, and Sedcain Archives. Simultaneously mystical and stark, somber and danceable, the project grapples with hard-wired truths and imagines better futures.

The debut album This Time I'll Be of Use is out 28 May with 37d03d, the label co-founded by Bon Iver's Justin Vernon and The National's Aaron and Bryce Dessner.

"81355 is a compelling reminder that the most exciting things around the corner for art and music aren't coming from a board room – they're coming from neighborhood clubs, house shows, and basements." – Consequence of Sound

81355 Locks Into A Supernatural Aesthetic

Local hip-hop supergroup 81355 releases "This Time I'll Be of Use" on 37d03d May 28

Review by David Lindquist

New hip-hop trio 81355 (pronounced "bless") qualifies as both a surprise and the most logical thing under the sun. While the world grappled with a pandemic, Indianapolis music titans Oreo Jones, Sirius Blvck and David "Moose" Adamson joined forces to make an essential fantasy/action-adventure/sci-fi rap album. You probably didn't expect it. After listening, you may wonder if it all was a dream. But the trio's deep history of collaboration and this bold step into the future are undeniably real.

Although 81355 named its debut album "This Time I'll Be of Use," no one can accuse Jones, Blvck and Adamson of being slackers up to this point. Jones raised the stature of Indianapolis hip-hop by founding the annual Chreece festival. Blvck made philanthropic moves by launching the New Hands festival to benefit nonprofit organizations. And Adamson is relentless in exploring new sonic frontiers whether he's known as Jookabox, DMA or Sedcain Archives.

Jones, Blvck and Adamson made a collective impression in 2015, when they passed the mic on Blvck's song "Tribe Quest."

Adamson made a cameo appearance on "Unconcerned," a 2020 duo release from Jones and Blvck. Jones and Adamson made 2013 album "Highway Hypnosis" together, and Jones and Blvck wowed countless live audiences as members of the Ghost Gun Summer collective. Finally, all three sides of the triangle are in place for "This Time I'll Be of Use."

81355 locks into a supernatural aesthetic on opening track "Capstone" and never wavers across the album's eight songs. In his production role, Adamson leans into sounds associated with modular synthesizers and the brooding soundtracks of fil-

"Time I'll Be of Use" resembles the sonic equivalent of watching psychedelic scenes projected on a canyon wall. Don't fret when images decay; new ones soon will come into focus. "I light up on the road, I'm talking 'Billie Jean,'" Blvck raps on "The Void." "Sidewalks glow in the street. Smoke kisses me." He closes the same extended stream of lyrics – a calling card for both Jones and Blvck – with this picture: "Searching for these underground tunnels in my mind's eye, undiscovered ruins where I sit and watch the time fly."

Jones is more irreverent when drawing on popular culture. In and he decries the 19th-century displacement of Potawatomi people in northern Indiana.

81355's sense of place is conveyed in the album's cover art: an image of a ragged and distressed net hanging from a basketball rim presented on a yellow background that's muted if not dingy. Indianapolis is sorely overdue in terms of a rap act connecting with a large audience. On the bright side, the unified Jones, Blvck and Adamson are at peak powers and have a chance to be heard beyond the Midwest. 81355 is signed to independent label 37d03d (pronounced "people"), founded by Bon Iver's Justin Vernon and siblings Aaron and Bryce Dessner of the National.

Availability, emotional or otherwise, is the focus of 81355 song "Hard 2 Find" and its chorus of, "I'll be here though I know that sometimes I can be hard to find." Paired to a keyboard tone suggestive of a harpsichord, Blvck raps about ghosting after doing what needs to be done: "It's like, 'Poof, he's gone.' I was there with a shoulder to lean on, though."

Oreo Jones, Sirius Blvck and David "Moose" Adamson joined forces to make an essential fantasy / action-adventure / sci-fi rap album mmaker John Carpenter and Netflix series "Stranger Things." Lyrically, Blvck sets the tone through "Capstone's" references to past lives, an infinite ladder, a door in the middle of a forest and the ouroboros snake that swallows its tail.

By the time Blvck rhymes about telekinesis in later songs, "This the song "Maroon," he describes a dream in which he loses a gig as the fourth Supreme because his voice is too deep. A few bars earlier, he's so fired up that he feels "like Pauly Shore in 'Son-in-Law,' I put that combine into overdrive." It's not all laughs, however. Jones pays respect to "Poems from Prison" author Etheridge Knight,

The new album by 81355 "This Time I'll Be Of Use" is now available at Indy CD & Vinyl, as well as other releases by members of the group 81355 and label-mates from 37d03d!

LOCAL ARTIST SPOTLIGHT & NEWS

Indy CD & Vinyl caught up with a few amazing Indy-based and Indy-raised artists and musicians and asked: WYD?

Karate, Guns & Tanning

Karate, Guns & Tanning's debut album Concrete Beach is an incendiary blast of industrial-tinged post-punk, shoegaze and dream-pop.

Composed of Paige Shedletsky on keys and assorted synths, noise-making, and vocals; Valerie Green on lead vocals, bass, and synths; Joy Caroline Mills on guitar; and Daniel Guajardo on drums, their album Concrete Beach was written remotely, recorded and produced by the band, and professionally mixed and mastered by Indy-based engineer Wesley Heaton at 1857 Studios. The Indy/Louisville-based band is currently working on their live show, and when touring resumes you can catch them playing near you!

Born out of restlessness and pent-up aggression, and further intensified by the ambient dread of the early months of the pandemic, their fierce energy is palpable on standout moments of the album like the rousing, militaristic cries of "Hot Bots," as well as the synth-splattered "Badlands," a nightmarish vision of a doomed journey into the darkest heart of the desert. "Breaking Teeth," stands out with its metallic guitars, gritty bass and chanted rally cries (not to mention some blazing guitar solos from Mills).

That brooding intensity percolates on "Fire," a new wave-tinted track powered by technicolor synths, melodic bass and dreamlike lyrics. Meanwhile, "Artifacts" roars to life with pounding, Bonham-sized drums and hyper-processed vocals that serve as another instrument in the mix. Elsewhere, the band's experimental dream-pop past is resurrected by the lush and soaring pop smarts of "Zenith," a minimalist cut inspired by the SpaceX launch.

DJ Gabby Love

Like everyone else on the planet, this has been an extremely trying and challenging year for Indianapolis-based DJ and entertainer Gabby Love.

Despite the strife, she was able to grow in her career and even pivot into new facets she did not think would be possible.

Gabby's job as solely a mixer on Indy's RadioNow 100.9 FM turned into becoming on-air talent and hosting nights 7pm to Midnight.

Gabby explains, "I never thought I would have an opportunity to do that or even be good at it. I have always hated hearing my own voice, but I have grown to LOVE being on-air and has become clear it was the path my career was meant to travel."

On top of on-air hosting, Gabby has 12 mixshows per week on RadioNow 100.9 Monday through Thursday: The Rush Mix at 8am, 10 O'Clock Turntables at 10pm, and RadioNow Remixed Fridays at 10pm.

While DJ Gabby Love has always been known for and has loved DJing in night-clubs, she is now primarily focusing on doing private events moving forward. You will definitely be able to catch Gabby in the club from time to time still.

A major achievement this last year is Gabby was voted to join the Girl's Rock! Indianapolis not-for-profit Board as a Director in September, and she assumed the role of Fundraising Chairperson.

Girls Rock! Indy has always been an organization near and dear to her heart, she has had DJ sessions and performances at their camps previously, so being on the Board has been a dream come true for her. Coming soon you can look for lots of Fundraising events with DJ Gabby Love for Girls Rock! Indy around town!

(It has) become clear it was the path my career was meant to travel.

Jordan Munson

Jordan Munson is an Indianapolis-based composer, performer, and multimedia artist. His work explores memory and our relationship to technology and has been said to “merge acoustic melody and electronic rhythm with thrilling purpose” (The New York Times). Drawing from backgrounds in formal percussion performance training, improvisation, pop, and sound design, his compositions juxtapose subtle landscapes of richly layered textures with driving melodic arrivals. Munson utilizes technology to interpret natural sounds and vice versa, focusing on the transmission losses that occur from this constant re-synthesis.

As a performer, Munson showcases his passion for combining sound with video art and light into a singular immersive experience. His frequent collaborators include Scott Deal and Michael Drews as a member of the trio Big Robot, and composer/vocalist Hanna Benn. He has performed alongside respected musicians Nico Muhly, R. Luke DuBois, and Bora Yoon.

His music has premiered at the Big Ears Festival and institutions such as the University of Kentucky, the University of Tennessee, and the University of California at San Diego (UCSD). He has composed original scores for the Phoenix Theatre (IN) and the acclaimed podcast Sick, and his last album Until My Last (New Amsterdam Records) has been featured in The New York Times and on Wilco’s list of best albums from 2018.

Munson has served as the Technical Director and faculty for the Nief Norf Summer Festival for new music since 2017, producing concerts alongside artists such as Ellen Fullman, Sarah Kirkland Snider, Wadada Leo Smith, and Nina Young.

His awards include a Presidential Fellowship in Digital Arts and Human Values from Wabash College and a Creative Renewal Arts Fellowship from the Arts Council of Indianapolis.

We asked Jordan what he’s been up to, and here is what he told us:

“Although performances and creativity have dropped to almost zero over the past year, I just so happen to be finishing up three recording projects at the moment. One of these, a double album entitled ‘Heartless Fools,’ began over three years ago and is my most ambitious work to date.

‘Heartless Fools’ is an expan-

“Although performances and creativity have dropped to almost zero over the past year, I just so happen to be finishing up three recording projects at the moment.”

sive collection of works exploring multiplicity and often contradictory ideas. Supported by a Creative Renewal Fellowship from the Arts Council of Indianapolis, many of the works were realized and recorded in January 2018 at the famed Greenhouse Studios (Bjork, Feist, Ben Frost) in Reykjavík, Iceland. Since these initial recordings the music has grown through far-reaching collaborations with a wide range of musicians, including many from Indianapolis.

While the music itself is not intended to be political, the title ‘Heartless Fools’ refers to the response of two characters to the current political landscape. The first is working through shock and grief as they awake to the realities of this world, and is trying to make sense of it all. The other, fueled by an imagined loss of cultural identity, is full of a rage that causes them to do inhumane things. This shows up in the music as a struggle between order and chaos, piece and aggression, contemplation and impatience. The works constantly push in pull, both internally and with one another.

The album is complete and in the process of finding a label, with the hopes of a 2021 release. Beyond this, I am also composing an original score for a play at the Phoenix Theatre in Indianapolis next season, and I will also serve as faculty member and keynote speaker for a summer music festival in late July. Musically, there is a lot to look forward to in 2021!”

Hyper Tensions

Although they’ve only been in Indianapolis for a little over 2 years, Hyper Tensions has been playing rock & roll together in some form or another for over a decade. “Obviously it has been a hard year for every musician but we’ve been lucky enough to utilize our time writing and preparing for a new record in hopes of recording it and releasing a new LP by the end of the year. Time will tell.”

In the meantime, catch the band at outdoor shows in Indy throughout the summer. You can also buy their last LP “Evil Seeds” at Indy CD & Vinyl or you can order it through Let’s Pretend Records website (letspretendrecords.com) as well as their bandcamp (hypertensions.bandcamp.com). We’ll see you out there.

Wife Patrol

Wife Patrol spent their 2020 very much online, celebrating the September release of Too Prickly for This World, their debut full-length which The Alternative feels “is as sharp as its name promises.” They were also able to mask up and play virtual shows for Punk Black, The Alternative, and Lincoln Calling. When social isolation hit hard, they took to talking with strangers on podcasts like Despair On the Air, Angry Grrrl Music, and Cultural Manifesto.

They spent the rest of their time hibernating with notepads and voice memo apps coming up with new material, and even managed to record a new single “How to Lose” and a covers project remotely.

For 2021, live dates are in the works for July and they are demoing new songs with plans to record a second LP later in the year. They are indescribably pumped to be able to get back out and see their buddy bands whom they have missed dearly.

...indescribably pumped to get back out there

Sarah Grain

Sarah Grain had just begun working on her fourth album at Postal Recording when Covid hit. As a singer-songwriter, this was to be her most collaborative album to date. The music for many of Grain's recent songs were written by guitarist Doug Sauter and arranged by her band, Sarah Grain & the Billions of Stars - with Mina Keohane on keys, Nate Gray on bass, and Ryan Koch and Jacob Powell on percussion. When the pandemic hit and halted all performances (including their monthly spot at the Chatterbox Jazz Club), the group ventured forward and have since have tracked 16 songs, gearing up for a 2022 release of their double-Lp entitled 'Days Worth Living.'

If you are in another local band and decide to work with Postal Recording, you just might meet Sarah Grain. Sarah began spending more and more time at Postal Recording this past year while working on her own record, and gradually started doing more and more for the westside studio and the wealth of local talent that record there. Whether its scheduling your session, winding mic cables, mopping floors, or singing background vocals, Grain's presence at Postal Recording is definitely felt, and heard.

Lily & Madeleine

Madeleine:

The start of 2020 was promising: we were independent from a label, ready to make new music and work as much as possible. Obviously all of those plans had to be put on hold once Covid hit hard. So we hunkered down in Indianapolis, spent a lot of time with family, got other part-time jobs to supplement our income, and finally started working on new music with our long-time friend and bandmate Shannon Hayden. The past 12 months have been surreal and traumatic, but having to isolate for so long allowed us to reset personally and creatively. We're producing our new music completely ourselves for the first time, and planning to spend the rest of the year in LA and NYC finishing up this record and just exploring!

Lily:

We were lucky enough to have already had a long year of touring in 2019 for our last record, Canterbury Girls, so we didn't have to cancel or reschedule anything. It was overwhelming (for me personally anyway) after 6-7 years of touring and moving around constantly to sit still for a while. The constant cycles of anxiety, loss, and apprehension were extremely difficult to navigate, but Covid did allow us the time and opportunity to really focus on writing and also to reconnect with some close friends in Indy! The bright side of the past year is now I have a deeper understanding of mine and Madge's abilities and a massive amount of gratitude for the awesome stuff we've already done and the chance to go and see and create even more!!

INDY CD & VINYL HAS DITCHED PLASTIC BAGS!

Just in time for Earth Day this year, Indy CD & Vinyl used their last plastic shopping bag! Opting instead for paper shopping bags and reusable tote bags, the store is doing its best to limit one-time-use plastic waste.

Sales of the logo reusable tote bags (only $3.00 each at the cash register) will generate money to be donated to local charity Keep Indianapolis Beautiful (kibi.org) to help support their beautification projects in town.

INDY CD & VINYL UNVEILS NEW LINE OF CLEANERS

Indy CD & Vinyl recently unveiled their own line of vinyl cleaning supplies, including these cool-looking bottles of 'Black Magic' cleaning solution and branded lint-free cloths pre-moistened with the anti-static Black Magic cleaning solution.

Other than heavy-duty cleaning requiring our machines at the shop, this is all you need to keep your records clean of debris and dust for a lifetime of play!

HOROSCOPES WITH THE SPELL SISTERS

Aries

You are accustomed to getting what you want because you aren't afraid to ask for it. Be aware of being too aggressive this month—you really don't have to push that hard. You can catch more flies with honey than with vinegar and, as you pepper your conversations with some extra winks and nods, it's almost too easy for you to accomplish your goals. Your love life is poppin' off because you're feeling yourself but don't let your head get too big. Creating drama does not serve you. Your oat milk CBD latte is going to taste a lot better if you aren't a little rude or flippant to the barista.

Taurus

Your hermit shell has cracked open and you're having some super off-brand-for-you feelings. It's not usually in your nature to want to change so many situations in your life at once, but you have been cultivating this new habit of knowing your own worth and it's kinda contagious. Suddenly, your friends are inspired and want to become realtors, too. Changes are so out of character that this month, you feel inclined to try to hide it from everyone around you... but remember that you are almost completely incapable of hiding your emotions when they're written all over your face. Don't act like you can hide.

Gemini

This month's solar eclipse in your sign is serving you with light bulb aha-esque moments that fill you with wonder, and tbh, so much confusion. The first half of this year has been about rebuilding some structure for yourself and now you're getting clear signals about where you should go and how you should move forward... the only problem is that hate to admit when you're challenged, and you happen to be very challenged this month. If someone offers you a hand (or a reading, or a massage, or to buy your drinks), you should reach out and take it. You have to be gentle, with yourself and with everyone else.

Cancer

You are a natural at feeling your feelings, but when it comes to expressing vulnerability, admittedly, this is not your favorite. Things seem to be coming together this month as you ascend a proverbial ladder, but the growing pains are very real. You know your value and you're not afraid for everyone to know that you know it. But you may or may not have been known to sometimes take things personally if you're pushed too hard. Keep in mind that material growth and triumph are not matters of the heart. Getting or not getting the promotion doesn't mean anything about you as a person. Don't make it personal, don't take it personal.

Leo

Ah, the spotlight: your favorite. This month, with a solar eclipse, hot vaxxed summer, and the dissolution of unnecessary structures, you are L-I-V-I-N-G. However! It's way too easy for you to get carried away and forget to take care of your actual life responsibilities, though. It's all fun and games when you're closing down Metro on a Thursday night, but damn, that Friday deadline you forgot all about is still there when you wake up. Don't leave shit for the last minute and don't let things pile up. Ask for help, well in advance, so that you can close down Metro without a care in the world.

Virgo

All work and no play makes... and babe, you've been such a helper for so long, don't you think you deserve a little rest? You are emotionally drained and all of those times you'd had it up to here are really adding up. You're not, like, about to snap, but I mean. You could if you wanted to. Just a little. It might be time to think about how you're giving yourself time to process all of the trauma you've been through this past year. Therapy should absolutely be on the table. Meditation, journaling, and yoga are all good and fine, too, but it may be time to break out the big guns.

Libra

Wow, okay, so you might have some regrets, yeah? Maybe you went too far on something. Here's the thing: if you feel stupid, just apologize. You love attention and there is nothing wrong with some innocent flirting and eyelash batting, but if real love is on the table, do you want it? What are you willing to sacrifice to get what you deeply desire? You can have your cake and eat it, too, but don't walk all over people (at least not without consent). Is it worth it when you're getting what you want and it makes you feel bad?

Scorpio

Dude, listen, if you are feeling like an asshole, don't even worry about it. It's likely most people didn't notice and if they did, they kind of admired it. You've gotten so scrappy and honestly, you should be proud of that, but watch out for the underdog. Throwing someone under the bus can protect you, but what is the true cost? It might be time to reevaluate your priorities. Are the relationships serving you, or is being right? Watch out for unexpected forks in the road. Be prepared to pivot.

Sagittarius

You have had a tough go of it for a while, babe. You had to sacrifice so much of your control these past few months to get out of a hard spot. Now that the roughest part has passed, it's dawning on you how much a lack of control weighs on your wellbeing. You have a lot more prowess over your life than you did a year ago, though, because you've been facing it head on. There was no way for you to ignore it anymore and avoid the strife. The only problem is that now everything feels like a hologram and you doubt it all. You can trust that what's being shown is genuine.

Capricorn

I think you're trying to convince yourself that everything is supposed to still be bad. You really need to drop the story of struggle and let yourself move past it. You are so invested in your career relationships and your colleagues might have become a distraction from your actual work. Money and success are at the forefront for you, so don't let something silly put your job in jeopardy. Did you recently take a major risk? Are you still mulling it over? You'll get news about it this month. You're fighting too hard against something you know you can't resist anyway.

Aquarius

I know you usually like to sit back and let others take the lead, but nobody knows their way around this the way you do. This is no time for humility. Honestly, it would be in your best interest for you to show up and do something you have always thought of. Why are you still putting it off? You're the one for the job. You know it, they know it, and it's just literally time. Sign the paper, write the book, ask them out, take the leap. Nobody can do what you can do in the special way you can.

Pisces

You have been running yourself ragged trying to protect everyone else. Your intuitive nature is what makes you so magical and special. You feel like everyone has been needing you, and maybe they have, but would they need you if you didn't offer yourself up in that way? You need to give yourself time and space to heal your shield. Your energy is stretched way too thin. Peace is in stillness. You've been overdoing everything. This month don't overdo anything. Offer nothing. Accept everything.
